My philosophy has remained the same throughout 20+ years of experience in real estate - treat every client like I would a close friend and always go above and beyond. My values of honesty, integrity, and hard work translate into every transaction and client experience.

Born and raised in Greenville, I was thrilled when my family decided to move back to the Upstate. There are so many things to love about this city - I am especially grateful for my involvement with my church, Mentor Upstate, and The SC ALS Association. I promise to listen to your needs and walk with you every step of the way.

LSHomes.com

LS Homes has been Greenville's trusted home builder for over 30 years. Our emphasis on quality and longevity has given us a solid reputation and made us a true staple in the Upstate, where we're proud to serve our friends and neighbors.

By taking a personal approach to home building, we take pride in every home built. The expertise of a large builder paired with the friendliness and locality of a small business sets us apart.
